Don't Miss!

YCSD Parent YOU (Parent University)
Sessions are held virtually on Zoom.

APRIL 29, 2021
5:00 - 7:00 PM
(LOG-IN @ 5:00 PM)

Over the next few months, our YCSD Parent YOU (Parent University) will offer sessions aligned with one of four pathways. Parents will choose ONE of the pathways to follow and attend sessions in that pathway. Parent YOU will offer opportunities for parents to attend different pathways each year. This program is an excellent chance for parents to get helpful and practical information along with the ability to receive giveaways, prizes, and gifts. YCSD will have a June Parent YOU graduation ceremony with awards and even more prizes for those who attend ALL of the sessions in their chosen pathway. It's going to be great!

PATHWAY ONE - SOCIAL EMOTIONAL LEARNING/HEALTH AND WELL-BEING

SESSION THREE
Kristen Biggs, Release and Unleash Through Grief
Have you experienced grief during the COVID-19 pandemic? From the tragedy of losing a loved one to the sense of fear from the loss of normalcy, you or your family has probably struggled with one or more different forms of grief during this challenging time. Speaker Kristen Biggs will provide participants with steps and guidance for healing in their time of grief.

PATHWAY TWO - LITERACY

SESSION THREE
Willa Brigham, Storytelling - It’s a Family Affair!
Stories are powerful, whether read aloud from books or spoken from our own experiences. When children hear our stories, their creativity and imagination take hold and create mental images. This session is the second of a three-session workshop designed to help parents become storytellers and learn how to share stories with their children. Join Willa Brigham to learn storytelling skills, including structure, sequence, and the art of storytelling.

PATHWAY THREE - DIVERSITY

SESSION THREE
Diversity Center of Northeast Ohio, Race and Ethnicity
This important workshop presented by the Diversity Center of Northeast Ohio addresses racial, ethnic, and cultural differences and the stereotypes associated with these unique factors. Participants will gain awareness of their own racial identity development, knowledge about the economic and political function of race, and have a chance to apply their understanding of the history of race to their own experiences.

PATHWAY FOUR - COLLEGE AWARENESS FOR EL FAMILIES (HABRÁ INTÉRPRETE)

SESSION THREE
Marian Armstrong and Jorge Vega Santos, College Awareness for EL Families
Para mas Informacion sabre Este segmento, contacte a Natalie Griffin 330-744-6985. This program is the third of four compelling interactive sessions for families of English Learner (EL) scholars (Grades 8-11) to build early college awareness. Each participant (scholar may attend with parent) will receive a book to guide them through the series. We will provide time for families to discuss their concerns and to understand the process of preparing for college. This session is funded through "The Chaffee Family Foundation."
